

|                         |                                                                                                                |
|-------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910704486103321                                                                                          |
| Autore                  | Gad-el-Hak Mohamed <1945->                                                                                     |
| Titolo                  | Turbulence control of an airborne laser platform : phase 1 SBIR--final technical report / / Mohamed Gad-el-Hak |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Hampton, Virginia : , : National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Langley Research Center, , [1987]       |
| Descrizione fisica      | 1 online resource (53 pages) : illustrations                                                                   |
| Collana                 | NASA contractor report ; ; 178249                                                                              |
| Soggetti                | Adaptive opticsAirborne lasersAlgorithmsFlow stabilityPlatforms                                |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese                                                                                                        |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa                                                                                             |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia                                                                                                     |
| Note generali           | Title from title screen (viewed Feb. 26, 2013)."March 1987."                                               |
| Nota di bibliografia    | Includes bibliographical references (pages 51-53).                                                             |