Sommario/riassunto	The crisis of more than forty years: A recent global history: In a dialogue between History and studies in International Relations, this recent global history begins with the Cold War and the French May '68 uprisings; it continues with the 1973 oil crisis, which, although initially undervalued and disparaged as an increase in the price of oil, is addressed due to its impact on the course of the century and the political responses it generated: the rise of the New Right in the First World, the Soviet Perestroika, the Four Modernizations in China and the Iranian Revolution. Subsequently, the book covers unfinished transitions: the pretension of a unipolar world, the failed World Order and its conflicts, the 2008 crisis and the search for global governance after the crack. En un diálogo entre Historia y estudios en Relaciones Internacionales, esta historia global reciente empieza con la Guerra Fría y el Mayo Francés para continuar con la Crisis de 1973 que, aunque inicialmente subvaluada y reducida al aumento del precio del petróleo, es abordada por su impacto en el devenir del siglo y las respuestas políticas que generó: el ascenso de la nueva derecha en el Primer Mundo, la Perestroika soviética, las Cuatro modernizaciones chinas y la Revolución Iraní. El siguiente recorrido que sigue este libro es el de las transiciones inacabadas: la pretensión unipolar, el fallido Orden Mundial y sus conflictos, la Crisis de 2008 y la búsqueda de la gobernanza global tras el crack.
