

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910715073303321
Autore	Younus Uzair
Titolo	The impact of COVID-19 on South Asian economies // by Uzair Younus
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Washington, DC : , : United States Institute of Peace, , 2021 ©2021
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (23 pages) : color illustrations
Collana	Special report / United States Institute of Peace ; ; no. 500
Soggetti	COVID-19 (Disease) - Economic aspects - India COVID-19 (Disease) - Economic aspects - Bangladesh COVID-19 (Disease) - Economic aspects - Pakistan COVID-19 Pandemic, 2020- COVID-19 (Disease) - Economic aspects Diplomatic relations United States Foreign relations India 21st century United States Foreign relations Bangladesh 21st century United States Foreign relations Pakistan 21st century India Foreign relations United States 1984- Bangladesh Foreign relations United States Pakistan Foreign relations United States 1971- Bangladesh India Pakistan United States
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	"August 2021."
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages 19-22).
Nota di contenuto	Introduction. -- India. -- Bangladesh. -- Pakistan. -- Impact on relations with the United States. -- Conclusion.
Sommario/riassunto	The COVID-19 pandemic has caused one of the most serious public health and economic crises faced by India, Bangladesh, and Pakistan in recent years. This report looks at the economic impact on these nations, their prospects for the remainder of 2021, and their relations with the United States. It identifies key areas of focus for ensuring the subcontinent's recovery is equitable--which, in the context of an erosion of democratic norms, growing authoritarianism, and severe crackdown on dissent, could help avoid economic and social instability.
