Mainasara, Muhammad Lawal Jidda, Amrina Mohammad Amin, Garba Abdullahi, Faruku Ladan and Maryam Danyaro -- Chapter 2 Hepatic Lipid Homeostasis in NAFLD by Shuo Zhang, Bing Ji, Changqing Yang and Li Yang -- Chapter 3 Transcriptional Regulation by ERR and Its Role in NAFLD Pathogenesis by Brittney Hua, Ielyzaveta Slarve, Aditi A. Datta, Chenxi Xu, Chien-yu Chen and Bangyan L. Stiles -- Section 2 Therapeutic Aspect Including Iron Metabolism and Heparinase in NAFLD -- Chapter 4 Role of the Enzyme Heparanase in the Development of Fatty Liver by Shadi Hamoud -- Chapter 5 Regulation of Iron Metabolism in NAFLD/NASH by Yuki Hamada and Eiichi Hirano -- Chapter 6 Therapeutic Approach to NAFLD-NASH by Georgios Sfikas and Ioannis Valsamidis.
Sommario/riassunto	Non-alcoholic fatty liver disease (NAFLD) is characterized by hepatic steatosis that develops in the absence of competing for liver disease etiologies such as alcohol consumption, monogenic hereditary conditions, or iatrogenic causes. The pathogenesis of NAFLD is multifactorial and its understanding is still incomplete. Although knowledge of the cellular and molecular mechanisms underlying disease development and progression has grown significantly in recent years, the exact contribution of environmental and genetic factors as well as that of extrahepatic and intrahepatic events in determining the disease phenotype remains ill dened. This book discusses topics highly correlated with NAFLD such as the regulation of iron metabolism, the role of the enzyme heparanase in liver steatosis, transcriptional regulation by ERR and its role in pathogenesis, hepatic lipid homeostasis, therapeutic approaches to NAFLD, and pathogenesis and significance of HDL as a molecular modifier in NAFLD.

Sommario/riassunto

This book covers all aspects of small intestinal disease with the aim of providing an up-to-date reference of the highest quality that will assist in everyday clinical practice. After introductory chapters on anatomy, pathophysiology, epidemiology, and signs and symptoms, the roles of different imaging modalities in the diagnosis of small intestinal disease are clearly explained, focusing particularly on capsule endoscopy, device-assisted enteroscopy, CT and MR enterography, and nuclear medicine techniques. A series of chapters then address each of the diseases and conditions that may be encountered. The coverage is wide ranging, including, for example, obscure gastrointestinal bleeding, Crohn's disease and other inflammatory conditions, celiac disease, Behçet's disease, Meckel's diverticulum, intestinal tuberculosis, and various malignancies. Numerous informative clinical cases are presented to identify characteristic imaging findings and assist in treatment decision making. Small intestinal disease continues to represent a significant challenge. The scope and detail of this book will make it an invaluable asset for gastroenterologists and other clinicians.
