

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910754896403321
Titolo	The Emerald handbook of childhood and youth in Asian societies : generations between local and global dynamics // edited by Doris Buhler-Niederberger (University of Wuppertal, Germany), Xiaorong Gu (University of Suffolk, UK), Jessica Schwittek (University of Duisburg-Essen, Germany), and Elena Kim (American University of Central Asia, Kyrgyzstan)
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bingley, U.K. : , : Emerald Publishing Limited, , 2023 ©2023
ISBN	1-80382-283-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (392 pages)
Disciplina	305.23095
Soggetti	Children - Asia - Social conditions Social Science - Children's Studies Sociology: family & relationships
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction / Doris Buhler-Niederberger, Xiarong Gu, Jessica Schwittek, and Elena Kim -- Section one - Introduction childhood on a modern drive: Growing up in east asia / Xiaorong Gu -- Chapter 1. Can subaltern children speak? What China's children of migrants say about mobility, inequality and agency / Xiaorong Gu -- Chapter 2. Emotional dimensions of transnational education: Parent-child relationships of the Chinese "parachute generation" in the United States / Siqi Tu -- Chapter 3. Fluid childhoods: Chinese migrants' descendants growing up transnationally / Laura Lamas-Abraira -- Chapter 4. Transformations of early childhood in Japan: From free play to extended education / Frederick De Moll and Akihide Inaba -- Section two - Introduction multiplicity and fundamental inequality of childhoods in south asia / Doris Buhler-Niederberger and Asma Khalid -- Chapter 5. Return migration, parenting, and the subcontinent: Parents and youths' perspectives of life in India / Adrienne Lee Atterberry -- Chapter 6. Pluralizing Indian childhood: Children's experiences and adult-child relations in urban and rural contexts /

Ravneet Kaur -- Chapter 7. Childhood construction: Intergenerational relations in the afghan refugee community living in pakistan / Asma Khalid -- Section three - Introduction living as a child in azerbaijan, kazakhstan, kyrgyzstan and turkiye: Navigating between solidarity, collective pressures, and kinship support in the times of disruption / Elena Kim and Doris Buhler-Niederberger -- Chapter 8. "i thought i'd kill myself when i grew up": Queer childhood narratives in kazakhstan / Mariya Levitanus -- Chapter 9. Adolescents' migration aspirations in kyrgyzstan: A migration project as a "collective project" of the family / Ekaterina Chicherina -- Chapter 10. Sociomaterial analysis of azerbaijani children's smartphone use: Generational ordering through user-technology interactions / Aysel Sultan, Doris Buhler-Niederberger, and Nigar Nasrullayeva -- Chapter 11. Turkiye - negotiating more adulthood in an "in-between" country / Aytur Turkyilmaz -- Chapter 12. Grandparenting the firstborn in central asia: Exploring the 'nebere aluu' practice / Elena Kim -- Section four - Introduction childhood and youth in southeast asia: Confronting diversity and social change / Jessica Schwittek and Elizer Jay de los Reyes -- Chapter 13. Parenthood vs childhood: Young people's generational rebellion in thailand / Giuseppe Bolotta -- Chapter 14. Refusing the mobility imperative among the left-behind generation in the northern philippines / Elizer Jay de los Reyes -- Chapter 15. Social relatedness and forenaming in "mixed" families: Valuing children of filipino-belgian couples / Asuncion Fresnoza-Flot -- Chapter 16. "in this way my parents could really develop": Individualized interdependence in viet-german families / Jessica Schwittek, Doris Buhler-Niederberger, and Kamila Labuda.

---

Sommario/riassunto

The ebook edition of this title is Open Access and freely available to read online. More than half of the world's children grow up in Asia, a continent currently undergoing rapid economic and social change. Yet the voices of young people in Asian countries have received far too little attention. Providing a much-needed contribution to the field of childhood studies, The Emerald Handbook of Childhood and Youth in Asian Societies sets a new agenda in a research landscape that has so far lacked an overarching conceptual framework for illuminating Asian childhoods. Adopting a systematic and comprehensive approach, this pioneering handbook profiles Asian childhoods and youth embedded within their distinctive families and societies as well as in more universal contexts. Locating young people in a variety of social structures, chapters highlight and interrogate strong intergenerational obligations across Asian cultures, even as Asian societies undergo rapid economic change, political transformation, and mass migration. Prioritising Asian youth's perspectives and contributions and revising established analytical frameworks of research, The Emerald Handbook of Childhood and Youth in Asian Societies equips readers with an understanding of the complex interplay between local and global conditions and private and public actors in Asian countries.

---