Sommario/riassunto

This book, authored by Valentina Della Fina, provides an in-depth analysis of the Committee on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD), focusing on its role within the United Nations Human Rights System. It explores the CRPD Committee's establishment, membership, and internal structure, as well as its innovative monitoring and reporting procedures. The text examines the negotiations leading to the CRPD's monitoring system and the treaty body reform, highlighting the participatory process and accessibility of the Committee's sessions and meetings. The book aims to strengthen the rights of persons with disabilities by detailing the CRPD Committee's work and is intended for scholars, practitioners, and policymakers interested in international human rights law and disability rights.
