Sommario/riassunto	The emergence of political planning and management for the Euro-Mediterranean coastal region is obvious today: long the Latin arch, in fact, to the exceptional landscape values if it accompanies a crescent anthropic pressure that accelerates the transformation, generating important criticism; Here more than elsewhere emerges as the AIDS placed from the binomial conserzione-development. This studio keeps the strategies developed between the protected coastal landscapes that took up this challenge, interpreting as a laboratory of the experimentation of landscape policies, precious point for the planning and management of the ordinary Costier country.
