

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910777305403321
Autore	Lash Scott
Titolo	Critique of information [[electronic resource] /] / Scott Lash
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : SAGE, c2002
ISBN	1-4462-2571-2 1-4462-1728-0 1-281-24016-8 9786611240165 1-84787-652-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xii, 234 p.)
Collana	Theory, culture & society
Disciplina	303.4833
Soggetti	Information society Information technology - Social aspects Power (Social sciences) Communication criticism
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Contents; Introduction; 1: Informationcritique; 2: Technological Forms of Life; 3: Live Zones, Dead Zones: Towards a Global Information Culture; 4: Disorganizations; 5: Unruly Objects: The Consequences of Reflexivity; 6: Media Theory; 7: Critique and Sociality: Revisiting the Theory of the Sign; 8: Tradition and the Limits of Difference; 9: Critique of Representation: Henri Lefebvre's Spatial Materialism; 10: Being After Time; 11: The Disinformed Information Society; 12: Technological Phenomenology; 13: Non-Linear Power: McLuhan and Haraway 14: Conclusions: Communication, Code and The Crisis of ReproductionBibliography; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Scott Lash believes that any critique of information in contemporary society must take place from within information flows rather than from the safety of academic detachment.