

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910777619803321
Autore	Johnson Lonnie <1952->
Titolo	Central Europe [[electronic resource]] : enemies, neighbors, friends / / Lonnie R. Johnson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Oxford University Press, 1996
ISBN	0-19-771202-9 1-280-52838-9 0-19-802607-2 1-4294-0052-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (352 p.)
Disciplina	943
Soggetti	Europe, Central History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 299-314) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Introduction: Where Is Central Europe?; 1 Central Europe and the Roman Christian West, 400-1000; 2 Feudal Foundations, 1000-1350; 3 The Great Late Medieval Kingdoms: Poland and Hungary, 1350-1500; 4 The Bulwarks of Christendom: Religion and Warfare, 1400-1550; 5 The Counter-Reformation: The Roman Catholic Church and the Habsburg Dynasty Triumphant, 1550-1700; 6 Absolutism as Enlightenment, 1700-1790; 7 Nations Without States, States Without Nations, 1790-1848; 8 The Demise of Imperial Austria and the Rise of Imperial Germany, 1848-1890 9 World War I and National Self-Determination, 1914-1922 10 Spheres of Influence I: Germany and the Soviet Union; 11 Spheres of Influence II: East and West, or ""Yalta Europe""; 12 The Failure of Eastern Europe, 1956-1989; Epilogue: Postrevolutionary Paradoxes: Central Europe Since 1989; Notes; Index
Sommario/riassunto	This work is intended for students of Eastern and Central European history. It explores the complexity of the relationships - those of enemies, neighbours and friends - that bind and divide European nations.