

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910778115703321
Titolo	Healthy development : : the World Bank strategy for health, nutrition, and population results
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Washington, DC : , : World Bank, , [2007] copyright 2007
ISBN	1-281-00096-5 9786611000967 0-8213-7194-0
Descrizione fisica	xix, 220 pages : color illustrations ; ; 24 cm
Disciplina	362.109172/4
Soggetti	Public health - Developing countries - Finance Public health - Developing countries - International cooperation Nutrition policy - Developing countries - Finance Population assistance - Developing countries - Finance
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 201-210) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Executive summary -- Introduction and overview -- Opportunities and challenges in the new international environment in health -- Bank contribution and challenges in implementing the 1997 HNP strategy -- How can the bank better serve client countries in the new environment? Bank comparative advantages for HNP results -- New bank strategic objectives: what HNP results? -- New bank strategic directions: how should the bank support client-country efforts? -- Implications for priority health, nutrition, and population programs and interventions -- Implementing new bank HNP strategic directions.
Sommario/riassunto	This paper spells out the vision of the World Bank on how to strengthen worldwide health systems and ensure better responses to key challenges such as combating the HIV/AIDS pandemic, repositioning nutrition on the development agenda, and renewing commitment on population policy. This strategy also entails stronger analytical and operational work in these important areas.