Record Nr. UNINA9910778864803321 Autore Ashton Gail <1957-> Titolo The generation of identity in late medieval hagiography [[electronic resource]] : speaking the saint / / Gail Ashton London: New York, : Routledge, 2000 Pubbl/distr/stampa ISBN 1-134-67449-X 1-280-33482-7 0-203-00491-4 0-203-17046-6 Descrizione fisica 1 online resource (187 p.) Collana Routledge research in medieval studies;; 1 235/.2/082 Disciplina Soggetti Christian women saints - History and criticism Literature, Medieval - History and criticism Christian hagiography - History - To 1500 Lingua di pubblicazione Inglese Formato Materiale a stampa Livello bibliografico Monografia Note generali Description based upon print version of record. Nota di bibliografia Includes bibliographical references (p. [162]-171) and index. Cover; Title; Copyright Page; Contents; Acknowledgements; Nota di contenuto Abbreviations: Introduction: Notes: PART I: 1 Narration and narratorial control: the masculine voice: Mirk's Festial; The Life of St Katherine of Alexandria: Early South-English Legendary: Legendys of Hooly Wummen; The Golden Legend; The Canterbury Tales; Saint Cecilia: a fissured text; Notes; PART II; 2 A concept of space and a notion of identity; Psychological space; Physical space; St Katherine; Maternity, paternity, and kinship; Notes; 3 Articulating an identity: speech, silence, and self-disclosure; Speech and silence Patient control: a mimesisSt Katherine; Other voices: tears, melody, and angels; Notes; 4 Written on the body; Imitatio Christi: the site of the abject; Torture and violence: the rhythm of blood; Notes; Conclusion: song of the saint; Notes; Bibliography; Index Sommario/riassunto In this interdisciplinary and boundary-breaking study, Gail Ashton examines the portrayals of women saints in a wide range of medieval texts. She deploys the French feminist critical theory of Cixous and Iriguray to illuminate these depictions of women by men and to further our understanding of both the lives and deeds of female saints and the contemporary, and almost always male, attitudes to them.