

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910778962603321
Titolo	The financial crisis in constitutional perspective : the dark side of functional differentiation / edited by Poul F. Kjaer, Gunther Teubner and Alberto Febbrajo
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Oxford ; Portland, Oregon, : Hart Publishing, 2011
ISBN	1-84731-822-3 1-4725-6097-3 1-283-39577-0 9786613395771 1-84731-666-2
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (465 p.)
Collana	International studies in the theory of private law ; v. 9
Disciplina	330.9/0511
Soggetti	Global Financial Crisis, 2008-2009 Sociological jurisprudence Financial crises - Law and legislation
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index
Nota di contenuto	Constitutional moment? The logics of 'hitting the bottom' / Gunther Teubner -- Towards a general theory of function system crises / Rudolf Stichweh -- Financial market crisis : a case of network failure? / Karl-Heinz Ladeur -- Death by complexity : the financial crisis and the crisis of law in world society / Moritz Renner -- Political epidemiology and the financial crisis / Urs Staheli -- Return of crisis / Hauke Brunkhorst -- Culture form of crisis / Dirk Baecker -- What is a crisis? / Jean Clam -- Eroding boundaries : on financial crisis and an evolutionary concept of regulatory reform / Marc Amstutz -- Failure of regulatory institutions : a conceptual framework / Alberto Febbrajo -- Struggles for law : global social rights as an alternative t financial market capitalism / Kolja Moller -- Ethics of the financial crisis / Aldo Mascareno -- Future of the state / Chris Thornhill -- Law and order within and beyond national configurations / Poul F. Kjaer Introduction -- Poul F Kjaer -- SECTION I: The Financial Crisis in a Systemic Perspective -- 1. A Constitutional Moment? The Logics of

'Hitting the Bottom' -- Gunther Teubner -- 2. Towards a General Theory of Function System Crises -- Rudolf Stichweh -- SECTION II: Dynamics -- Section II.1: The Breakdown of Expectations -- 3. The Financial Market Crisis-a Case of Network Failure? -- Karl-Heinz Ladeur -- 4. Death by Complexity-the Financial Crisis and the Crisis of Law in World Society -- Moritz Renner -- 5. Political Epidemiology and the Financial Crisis -- Urs Staheli -- Section II.2: Fundamental Crises of society -- 6. The Return of Crisis -- Hauke Brunkhorst -- 7. The Culture Form of Crisis -- Dirk Baecker -- 8. What is a Crisis? -- Jean Clam -- SECTION III: Reactions -- Section III.1: Regulatory Reactions -- 9. Eroding Boundaries: On Financial Crisis and an Evolutionary Concept of Regulatory Reform -- Marc Amstutz -- 10. The Failure of Regulatory Institutions-a Conceptual Framework -- Alberto Febbrajo -- Section III. 2: Individual and Collective Reactions -- 11. Struggles for Law: Global Social Rights as an Alternative to Financial Market Capitalism -- Kolja Moller -- 12. The Ethics of the Financial Crisis -- Aldo Mascareno -- Section III.3: Constitutional Transformation -- 13. The Future of the State -- Chris Thornhill -- 14. Law and Order within and Beyond National Configurations -- Poul F Kjaer

Sommario/riassunto

"This volume presents the first thorough sociologically-informed legal analysis of the financial crisis which unfolded in 2008. It combines a multitude of theoretically informed analyses of the causes, dynamics and reactions to the crisis and contextualises these within the general structural transformations characterising contemporary society. It furthermore explores the constitutional implications of the crisis and suggests concrete changes to the constitutional set-up of contemporary society. Although the question of individual responsibility is of crucial importance, the central idea animating the volume is that the crisis cannot be reduced to a mere failure of risk perception and management for which individual and collective actors within and outside of financial organisations are responsible. The 2008 crisis should rather be understood as a symptom of far deeper structural transformations. For example contemporary society is characterised by massive accelerations in the speed with which societal processes are reproduced as well as radical expansions in the level of globalisation. These transformations have, however, been asymmetrical in nature insofar as the economic system has outpaced its legal and political counterparts. The future capability of legal and political systems to influence economic reproduction processes is therefore conditioned by equally radical transformations of their respective operational forms and self-understanding. Potentially the 2008 crisis, therefore, has far-reaching constitutional implications"--Provided by publisher

This volume presents the first thorough sociologically-informed legal analysis of the financial crisis which unfolded in 2008. It combines a multitude of theoretically informed analyses of the causes, dynamics and reactions to the crisis and contextualises these within the general structural transformations characterising contemporary society. It furthermore explores the constitutional implications of the crisis and suggests concrete changes to the constitutional set-up of contemporary society. Although the question of individual responsibility is of crucial importance, the central idea animating the volume is that the crisis cannot be reduced to a mere failure of risk perception and management for which individual and collective actors within and outside of financial organisations are responsible. The 2008 crisis should rather be understood as a symptom of far deeper structural transformations. For example contemporary society is characterised by massive accelerations in the speed with which societal processes are reproduced as well as radical expansions in the level of globalisation. These transformations have, however, been asymmetrical in nature insofar as the economic system has outpaced its legal and political counterparts. The future capability of legal and political systems to influence economic reproduction processes is therefore conditioned by equally radical transformations of their respective operational forms and self-understanding. Potentially the 2008 crisis, therefore, has far-reaching constitutional implications
