1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910779376303321
Autore	Pennycook Alastair <1957->
Titolo	Language and mobility [[electronic resource]] : unexpected places / / Alastair Pennycook
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bristol ; ; Buffalo, : Multilingual Matters, 2012
ISBN	1-280-99873-3 9786613770349 1-84769-765-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (206 p.)
Collana	Critical language and literacy studies ; ; v. 15
Classificazione	HE 150
Disciplina	417/.7
Soggetti	Language and languages - Variation Intercultural communication Communication, International Native language and education
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Frontmatter -- Contents -- Acknowledgements -- Preface -- 1. Retracing Routes: Manjari Seeds and Nutmeg Trees -- 2. Turning Up in Unexpected Places -- 3. Through Others' Eyes and Thinking Otherwise -- 4. Constrained Mobilities: Epistolary Parenting -- 5. Resourceful Speakers -- 6. Elephant Tracks -- 7. Thirteen Ways of Looking at a Blackboard -- 8. Beyond the Boundaries of Expectation -- References -- Index
Sommario/riassunto	This book looks at language in unexpected places. Drawing on a diversity of materials and contexts, including farewell addresses to British workers in colonial India, letters written from parents to their children at home, a Cornish anthem sung in South Australia, a country fair in rural Australia, and a cricket match played in the middle of the 19th century in south India, this book explores many current concerns around language, mobility and place, including native speakers, generic forms, and language maintenance. Using a series of narrative accounts – from a journey to southern India to eating cheese in China, from playing soccer in Germany to observing a student teacher in Sydney – this book asks how it is that language, people and cultures turn up