

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910779716003321
Autore	MacKenzie Scott R. <1969->
Titolo	Be it ever so humble [[electronic resource]] : poverty, fiction, and the invention of the middle-class home / / Scott R. MacKenzie
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Charlottesville, : University of Virginia Press, 2013
ISBN	0-8139-3342-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (304 p.)
Collana	Winner of the Walker Cowen Memorial Prize
Disciplina	823/.6093564
Soggetti	Home in literature English fiction - 18th century - History and criticism Middle class in literature Nationalism in literature Social structure - England - History - 18th century Poverty - Government policy - England English literature - Scottish authors - History and criticism Literature and society - History - 18th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction: There's no case like home -- "Stock the parish with beauties": Henry Fielding's parochial vision -- An Englishwoman's workhouse is her castle: poverty management and the Radcliffean gothic -- Home and away: hegemony and naturalization -- There's no home-like place: out of doors in Scotland -- Conclusion: this home is not a house.