Nota di contenuto	The court and the member states : procedural aspects / Ian Cameron -- The margin of appreciation doctrine : a theoretical analysis of Strasbourg's variable geometry / Yutaka Arai-Takahashi -- The ECHR as a living instrument : its meaning and legitimacy / George Letsas -- No longer offering fine mantras to a parched child? The European Court's developing approach to remedies / Philip Leach -- National implementation of ECHR rights / Mads Andenas and Eirik Bjorge -- The court as a part of the council of Europe : the Parliamentary Assembly and the Committee of Ministers / Elisabeth Lambert-Abdelgawad -- Should the European Union ratify the European Convention for Human Rights? Some remarks on the relations between the European Court of Human Rights and the European Court of Justice / Leonard F.M. Besselink -- The European Court of Human Rights and the United Nations / Christian Tomuschat.

At fifty, the European Court of Human Rights finds itself in a new institutional setting. With the EU joining the European Convention on Human Rights in the near future, and the Court increasingly having to address the responsibility of states in UN-led military operations, the Court faces important challenges at the national, European and international levels. In light of recent reform discussions, this volume addresses the multi-level relations of the Court by drawing on existing debates, pointing to current deficits and highlighting the need for further improvements.
