

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910780522603321
Titolo	Capacity for choice : Canada in a new North America // edited by George Hoberg
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Toronto, [Ontario] ; ; Buffalo, [New York] ; ; London, [England] : , : University of Toronto Press, , 2002 ©2002
ISBN	1-281-99606-8 9786611996062 1-4426-7269-2
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (361 p.)
Collana	Policy Research: The Trends Project Series
Disciplina	337.1/7
Soggetti	POLITICAL SCIENCE / International Relations / General Electronic books. Canada Economic policy North America Economic integration Canada Politics and government 1980-
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction: economic, cultural, and political dimensions of North American integration / George Hoberg -- Effects of the FTA on interprovincial trade / John F. Helliwell, Frank C. Lee, and Hans Messinger -- Making macroeconomic policy in an integrating North America / Ronald Kneebone -- The integration of labour markets in North America / Rafael Gomez and Morley Gunderson -- Checking the brain drain 2000 / John F. Helliwell -- North American integration and Canadian culture / Gilbert Gagne -- Governance and state-society relations: the challenges / Laura C. Macdonald -- Redefining the locus of power / Francois Rocher and Christian Rouillard -- The scope for domestic choice: policy autonomy in a globalizing world / George Hoberg, Keith G. Banting, and Richard Simeon -- Conclusion: capacity for choice / George Hoberg.
Sommario/riassunto	"Drawing together an interdisciplinary group of scholars, this collection of essays - part of the Trends Project of the Government of Canada's Policy Research Initiative - examines North American integration and its potential future impact on Canadian life. It looks at trends in integration, knowledge gaps, and policy implications in economics, culture, and politics." "The contributors argue that the consequences of continental integration have not been as formidable as many people believe - the reality turns out to be enormously complex and ambiguous. While Canada has surrendered some policy instruments in exchange for access to larger markets and the pressures for harmonization have probably increased, it still retains significant room to manoeuvre, even in areas of policy most affected by growing economic integration. Canada has formidable capacities for domestic policy choices in a wide range of sectors, as this volume clearly shows. It is up to Canadians and their elected officials to exercise that freedom, and the essays collected here can guide them in their choices, as they help to forge a new North America."--Jacket
