

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910780783103321
Autore	Randle Jacqueline
Titolo	Oxford handbook of clinical skills in adult nursing [[electronic resource] /] / Jacqueline Randle, Frank Coffey, Martyn Bradbury
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Oxford ; ; New York, : Oxford University Press, 2009
ISBN	0-19-959794-4 1-283-57938-3 9786613891839 0-19-154937-1
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (694 p.)
Collana	Oxford medical publications
Altri autori (Persone)	CoffeyFrank <1961-> BradburyMartyn
Disciplina	610.73
Soggetti	Nursing Clinical medicine
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Preface; Contents; Contributors; Abbreviations; 1 Principles; 2 Communication skills; 3 Assessment of the patient; 4 Infection control; 5 Pain management and 'last offices'; 6 Drug administration; 7 Peripheral intravenous access and care; 8 Care of the theatre patient; 9 Emergency and high-dependency care; 10 Respiratory system; 11 Cardiovascular system; 12 Gastrointestinal system; 13 Genito-urinary system; 14 Musculoskeletal system; 15 Wound care; 16 Neurology; 17 Ear-nose-throat system; 18 Ophthalmology; 19 Haematology; Index;
Sommario/riassunto	Increasingly nurses are developing and extending their clinical skills into areas that were once considered only for doctors. With the rise of post-registration clinical skills courses, advanced practitioners, and the new medical assistant roles, it is anticipated that future professional practice will involve more emphasis on clinical skills for nurses. The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Skills in Adult Nursing provides a practical, easily accessible, concise and evidence-based guide to all the essential elements of clinical skills for nursing practice in one portable format. The first section

2. Record Nr.	UNINA9910892338803321
Titolo	Oxford open digital health
Pubbl/distr/stampa	[Oxford] : , : Oxford University Press, , [2023]-
ISSN	2754-4591
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource
Disciplina	362
Soggetti	Medical informatics Public health - Data processing Medical care - Data processing Médecine - Informatique Santé publique - Informatique Soins médicaux - Informatique Digital Health Medical Informatics Developing Countries periodicals. Periodicals Periodicals. Périodiques. Periodical
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Periodico
Sommario/riassunto	Oxford Open Digital Health is an Open Access journal that publishes methodologically rigorous evaluations, evidence reviews, study protocols and other policy-relevant research on Digital Health Interventions (DHIs) with a particular focus on Low and Middle-Income Countries (LMICs). The journal aims to provide a high-impact outlet for research that adds to the evidence-base of DHIs used to strengthen health systems, and accelerate progress towards universal health coverage. The journal encourages the submission of high-quality evaluations of DHIs involving a range of research approaches such as randomized controlled studies and implementation science research. In each case, to further replicability of the digital health interventions being deployed, we encourage a clear description of the design and technical features of the interventions, and where possible, direct inclusion of or reference to evidence on acceptability, gender, equity, ethical, legal and sociocultural implications.-

We actively seek to identify and purposefully target gaps in the literature, such as the current dearth of rigorous costing and economic evaluations of digital health interventions. We support interdisciplinary research spanning the disciplines of engineering, computer science, public health and medicine, across all health areas. Negative or null results are also encouraged to be submitted. The journal aims to support the World Health Organization's (WHO) efforts to develop future Digital Health Guidelines, by encouraging the use of the WHO Classification of Digital Health Interventions and the mHealth Evidence Reporting and Assessment (mERA) guidelines. We also encourage authors to ensure their projects are registered with the WHO Digital Health Atlas.-

With a view towards strengthening equity and inclusion in publication - we pledge to approach the amplification of local voices with intentionality, especially those that have been traditionally marginalized in peer-reviewed authorship due to language or economic barriers. Example areas of focus include, but are not exclusive to: National-scale program evaluations of DHIs in LMICs Impact assessments of DHIs at subnational scale Usability, Feasibility and Acceptability Studies of novel DHIs Evaluations of Applied Artificial Intelligence / Machine Learning Interventions to Improve Service Delivery and Health Promotion Innovations in Monitoring and Evaluation methodology for DH Implementation Challenges and Change Management of DHIs Economic evaluations / Scale-up Forecasting of DH Programs

3. Record Nr.	UNINA9910559394803321
Titolo	Turkish Jews and their Diasporas : Entanglements and Separations // edited by Kerem Öktem, Ipek Kocaömer Yosmaolu
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cham : , : Springer International Publishing : , : Imprint : Palgrave Macmillan, , 2022
ISBN	9783030877989 3030877981
Edizione	[1st ed. 2022.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (272 pages)
Collana	Modernity, Memory and Identity in South-East Europe, , 2523-7993
Disciplina	909.04924 956.1004924
Soggetti	Judaism - History Religions Middle East Russia - History Europe, Eastern - History Soviet Union - History Jewish History Middle Eastern Religions Russian, Soviet, and East European History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di contenuto	1. Prologue: The Long Twilight -- 2. Introduction: Turkish-Jewish Entanglements from the Ottoman Empire to the Turkish Republic -- Part I: Jewish-Turkish Lives in the Late Ottoman Empire, the Turkish Republic, and Israel -- 3 Solidarity and Survival in an Ottoman Borderland: The Jews of Edirne, 1912-1918 -- 4. On the Outside Looking In: Jewish Émigrés and Turkish Citizenship in the Early Republican Period -- 5. "The Ties that Bind Us to Turkey": The Turkish Jewish Diaspora in Europe and Its Relations with the "Home Country" -- 6. The Founding of the State of Israel and the Turkish Jews: A View from Israel, 1948-1955 -- Part II: Jewish-Turkish Entanglements in Contemporary Turkey and Israel -- 7. Entangled Sovereignties: Turkish Jewish Spaces in Israel -- 8. Creating [Jewish] Sites of Memory in Turkey

Where Jews No Longer Exist: From Physical Sites to Virtual Ones -- 9.
Whitewashing the Armenian Genocide with Holocaust Heroism -- 10.
Turkish Jews in an Unwelcoming Public Space -- 11. Epilogue:
"Aprontaremos Las Validjas" Shall We Start Packing the Suitcases?

Sommario/riassunto

"Laying bare the twin myths of Ottoman tolerance and Turkish-Jewish friendship upon which so much of Turkish-Jewish history writing was founded, this volume demonstrates how a dwindling Jewish community and growing antisemitism in Turkey are now unraveling these myths before our very eyes. Full of sobering and incisive reflections on Ottoman and Turkish Jewish lives past and present, this book has much to offer not only to specialists but also to anyone interested in the processes of minoritization, displacement and diaspora in the modern era." -Julia Phillips Cohen, Vanderbilt University, USA "An engaging and erudite exploration of identity politics in the late Ottoman era and modern Turkey. The story of Turkish Jews and their diaspora reflects the twists and turns, paradoxes, entanglements, and struggles shaping the country from the late 19th century till our day. The authors behind this volume have done a tremendous service to all scholars of modern Turkey." -Dimitar Bechev, University of Oxford, UK This book introduces the reader to the past and present of Jewish life in Turkey and to Turkish Jewish diaspora communities in Israel, Europe, Latin America and the United States. It surveys the history of Jews in the Ottoman Empire and the Turkish Republic, examining the survival of Jewish communities during the dissolution of the empire and their emigration to America, Europe, and Israel. In the cases discussed, members of these communities often sought and seek close connections with Turkey, even if those 'ties that bind' are rarely reciprocated by Turkish governments. Contributors also explore Turkish Jewishness today, as it is lived in Israel and Turkey, and as found in 'places of memory' in many cities in Turkey, where Jews no longer exist today. Kerem Halil Latif Öktem is Associate Professor of International Relations at Ca' Foscari University of Venice, Italy. He previously held the Chair for Southeast European Studies and Modern Turkey at the University of Graz, Austria, and was Research Fellow at the University of Oxford, UK. pek Kocaömer Yosmaolu is Associate Professor of History and Director of Keyman Modern Turkish Studies Program at Northwestern University, USA. She previously taught at University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA, and was a Mellon Fellow at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, USA. .
