1. Record Nr. UNINA9910781600003321 Autore Mul Sarah de Titolo Colonial memory: contemporary women's travel writing in Britain and the Netherlands / / Sarah De Mul [[electronic resource]] Amsterdam:,: Amsterdam University Press,, 2011 Pubbl/distr/stampa ISBN 1-283-33446-1 9786613334466 90-485-1385-5 Descrizione fisica 1 online resource (180 pages) : digital, PDF file(s) Disciplina 820.932 Travel writing - Women authors - History and criticism Soggetti Travelers' writings, English - History and criticism Travelers' writings, Dutch - History and criticism English prose literature - Women authors - History and criticism Dutch prose literature - Women authors - History and criticism Women - Travel Women travelers Postcolonialism in literature Imperialism in literature Inglese Lingua di pubblicazione Formato Materiale a stampa Monografia Livello bibliografico Title from publisher's bibliographic system (viewed on 15 Jan 2021). Note generali Includes bibliographical references and index. Nota di bibliografia Nota di contenuto Frontmatter -- Contents -- Acknowledgements -- Introduction. 'Yesterday does not go by' -- Chapter 1. A trip down memory lane. Colonial memory in women's travel writing -- Chapter 2. Women's memory of Rhodesia, the Dutch East Indies and Dutch and British cultures of colonial remembrance -- Chapter 3. Nostalgic memory in Ava Zikken's Terug naar de atlasvlinder -- Chapter 4. Indo postmemory in Marion Bloem's Muggen Mensen Olifanten -- Chapter 5. Everyday memory in Doris Lessing's African laughter. Four visits to Zimbabwe --Conclusion -- Notes -- Bibliography -- Index Exploring the intersections of memory, gender, and the > postcolonial, Colonial Memory explores the phenomenon of colonial memory through the specific genre of women's travel writing.

Sommario/riassunto

Building on criticism of memory and travel writing, Sarah De Mul seeks to open Dutch literature to postcolonial themes and concepts and to insert the history of the Dutch colonies and its critical recollection into the traditionally Anglophone-dominated field of postcolonial studies.
A vividly conceived and theoretically astute reading of the complicated weavings between the past and present involved in memory work and the process of nostalgic return. Elleke Boehmer, University of Oxford