

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910781737003321
Autore	Hedden Heather
Titolo	The accidental taxonomist [[electronic resource] /] / Heather Hedden
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Medford, N.J., : Information Today, c2010
ISBN	1-283-23890-X 9786613238900 1-57387-918-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xxx, 473 p.)
Classificazione	32.28
Disciplina	025
Soggetti	Information organization Classification Indexing Subject headings Cross references (Information retrieval) Thesauri
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	What are taxonomies? -- Who are taxonomists? -- Creating terms -- Creating relationships -- Software for taxonomy creation and management -- Taxonomies for human indexing -- Taxonomies for automated indexing -- Taxonomy structures -- Taxonomy displays -- Taxonomy planning, design, and creation -- Taxonomy implementation and evolution -- Taxonomy work and the profession.
Sommario/riassunto	The Accidental Taxonomist is the most comprehensive guide available to the art and science of building information taxonomies. Heather Hedden-one of today's leading writers, instructors, and consultants on indexing and taxonomy topics-walks readers through the process, displaying her trademark ability to present highly technical information in straightforward, comprehensible English.