

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910782263003321
Autore	Menzies Robert P
Titolo	Empowered for witness [[electronic resource] ] : the Spirit in Luke-Acts // Robert P. Menzies
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London ; ; New York, : T & T Clark International, 2004
ISBN	1-281-78361-7 9786611783617 0-567-12683-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (291 p.)
Collana	T & T Clark academic paperbacks
Disciplina	231/.309015
Soggetti	Holy Spirit - Biblical teaching
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [260]-272) and indexes.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Foreword; Preface; Preface to the First Edition; Acknowledgments; Abbreviations; Chapter 1 INTRODUCTION; Part I: PNEUMATOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVES IN INTERTESTAMENTAL JUDAISM; Part II: THE PROPHETIC PNEUMATOLOGY OF LUKE; Part III: THE SIGNIFICANCE OF LUKE'S PNEUMATOLOGY: A PENTECOSTAL PERSPECTIVE; Appendix: THE SPIRIT OF GOD IN ACTS; Bibliography; Index of Biblical References; Index of Authors
Sommario/riassunto	With this study, Menzies sets a new standard for pneumatology. Beginning with an overview of the pneumatological perspectives of intertestamental Judaism (including literature from the Diaspora, Palestinian, Qumran and rabbinic sources), the first section concludes that for the most part these sources 'consistently identify experience of the Spirit with prophetic inspiration'. The next section aims to uncover Luke's distinctive pneumatology, employing a redaction critical method of analysis in order to illustrate Luke's similarly consistent portrayal of the Spirit as the source of prophetic ins