

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910782383103321
Autore	Williams Deane
Titolo	Australian post-war documentary film [[electronic resource]] : an arc of mirrors // Deane Williams
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bristol, UK ; ; Chicago, : Intellect, 2008
ISBN	1-281-78607-1 9786611786076 1-84150-259-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (178 p.)
Disciplina	791 791.433 808.823
Soggetti	Documentary films - Australia - 20th century - History and criticism Nonfiction films - Australia - 20th century - History and criticism
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references. Includes filmography.
Nota di contenuto	Front Cover; Preliminary Pages; Contents; List of Illustrations; Acknowledgements; Preface; Introduction: Grierson Diminished; Chapter 1: A Realist Film Unit and Association in Australia; Chapter 2: Cecil Holmes's Folk Politics: The Intertextuality of Three in One; Chapter 3: John Heyer's International Perspective: The Overlanders, The Valley is Ours, The Back of Beyond; Chapter 4: The Neo-Realism of Mike and Stefani; Chapter 5: Settler Journeys; Filmography; References; Back Cover
Sommario/riassunto	The post-war period in Australian cultural history sparked critical debate over notions of nation-building, multiculturalism and internationalization. Australian Post-War Documentary Film tackles all these issues in a considered and wide-ranging analysis of government, institutional and also radical documentaries. On one level, the book is a selective history of Australian documentary film in the immediate post-war years. It also charts the rise of a progressive film culture. As a whole it is a thorough study of the international flows of film culture. Williams illustrates these themes by crit

