

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910783213303321
Titolo	Outsourcing and HR [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bradford, England, : Emerald Group Publishing, c2005 Bradford, England : , : Emerald Group Publishing, , 2005
ISBN	1-280-42348-X 9786610423484 1-84544-301-2
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (56 p.)
Collana	Human resource management international digest ; ; v.13, no. 3
Disciplina	658.300973
Soggetti	Contracting out Personnel management
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Table of contents; Viewpoint; From Kodak to Intel: how global outsourcing means local problems; Should HR play home or away?; Being busy abroad yourself could be best; Nike, IKEA and IBM's outsourcing and business strategies; Going a bundle on offloading work; Ramifications of globalization; The recruitment debate; International outsourcing; Traps ahead - so don't rush in; The offshoring craze; HR outsourcing in operation: critical success factors; Employment law outlook; Abstracts; Suggested reading; What's on the web
Sommario/riassunto	The outsourcing of certain human-resource management activities such as benefits and payroll has existed for decades, but in the last five years full-service business-process outsourcing has come of age. Faced with massive overcapacity and the implosion of several business sectors at once, managers have searched for new ways to reign in expenses, become more productive and restore focus to their business' core competency.