

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910783273503321
Autore	Bremer Francis J
Titolo	John Winthrop [[electronic resource] ] : America's forgotten founding father // Francis J. Bremer
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Oxford University Press, c2003
ISBN	0-19-771410-2 0-19-983962-X 1-280-48196-X 0-19-803401-6 1-60256-900-2
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (513 p.)
Disciplina	974.4/02/092 B
Soggetti	Governors - Massachusetts Puritans - Massachusetts Puritans - Massachusetts - History - 17th century Massachusetts History Colonial period, ca. 1600-1775 Great Britain History Tudors, 1485-1603 Great Britain History Early Stuarts, 1603-1649 England Church history 16th century England Church history 17th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Machine generated contents note: Profogue Part One -- Heritage --1 Lavenham to London 1 -- 2 Reformation 23 -- 3 John and Adam 39 -- Part Two -- Struggle --4 Youth 67 -- 5 Turning Points 89 -- 6 A Godly Magistrate 05 -- 7 The Godly Embattled 125 -- 8 The Decision to Migrate 147 --Interlude -- Christian Chanty 73 Part Three -- Errand --9 Passing Through Hell 187 -- 10 The Best of Them Was But an Attorney 203 -- 11 Relations with England 229 -- 12 On the Fringe 241 -- 13 War 261 -- 14 Struggling to Hold the Center 275 -- 15 New Trials and Disappointments 301 -- 16 War Clouds and Concerns 323 -- 17 Under Attack 349 -- 18 Last Years 371 Epilogue 379.

Sommario/riassunto

Vividly paints the life of John Winthrop as a disappointed and disaffected member of the English elite, examining how and why Winthrop and others decided to cross the Atlantic and found the Massachusetts Bay Colony. This book shows how Winthrop developed the skills to become the first governor of the colony.

---