1. Record Nr.   UNINA9910783529703321

   Autore   Darmawan Budi

   Titolo   Business service management best practices [[electronic resource] /] /
                   [Budi Darmawan, Kimberly Cox, Bahaeldin Ragab]

   Pubbl/distr/stampa   Austin, TX, : IBM, International Technical Support Organization, c2004

   Edizione   [1st ed.]

   Descrizione fisica   1 online resource (188 p.)

   Collana   IBM redbooks

   Altri autori (Persone)   CoxKimberly
                            RagabBahaeldin

   Disciplina   658/.0285

   Soggetti   Business - Data processing - Management
                   Electronic commerce - Management
                   Information technology - Management
                   Service-level agreements

   Lingua di pubblicazione   Inglese

   Formato   Materiale a stampa

   Livello bibliografico   Monografia

   Note generali   "Tivoli software"--Cover.

                   "This edition applies to IBM Tivoli Business Systems Managerement V2.
                   1.1 and IBM Tivoli service level advisor version 1.2.1"--T.p. verso.
                   "June 2004."
                   "SG24-7053-00."

   Nota di bibliografia   Includes bibliographical references (p. 165-166) and index.

   Sommario/riassunto   This IBM Redbooks publication discusses Business Service Management best practices. Business Service Management is a key component of IBM's on demand Automation Blueprint. It is the top layer of the system management discipline which enables IT management to be related to the business. The ultimate goal of the IT infrastructure is to leverage its value to support the business. The IT infrastructure management should then be aimed at minimizing disruption to business processes and functions. This goal is realized with the Business Service Management (formerly also called Business Impact Management). Using Business Service Management, IT resources management is aligned with the business processes and functions: - Establishing a Service Level Agreement with IT users - Understanding how IT resources impact business processes - Ensuring IT resources fulfill the Service Level Agreement and minimizing disruption to business functions This book describes the relevant concepts, as well as planning for and implementing Business Service Management. The implementation is described using a sample business function of an e-business solution.

2.	Record Nr.	UNINA9910154701403321
	Autore	Goroncy Jason
	Titolo	Hallowed be thy name : the sanctification of all in the soteriology of P.T. Forsyth / / by Jason Goroncy
	Pubbl/distr/stampa	London : , : T and T Clark, , 2013
	ISBN	9780567174390
		0567174395
		9781472551207
		1472551206
		9780567402530
		0567402533
	Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (309 p.)
	Collana	T & T Clark studies in systematic theology ; ; 20
	Disciplina	226.9606
	Soggetti	Salvation - Christianity
		Sanctification
		Universalism
	Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
	Formato	Materiale a stampa
	Livello bibliografico	Monografia
	Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
	Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages [245]-278) and index.
	Nota di contenuto	Coming into focus : Finding lenses ; Serviceableness and circumscription ; Past receptions ; Forsyth as 'Theologian of the cross' : Per Crucem ad Lucem -- The moral is the real : Location, landscape, appropriation ; Location ; Landscape ; Appropriation -- Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven ; 'Thy kingdom come' ; Holiness incarnate ; Christ the hallower ; Christ as obedient : 'To obey is better than sacrifice' ; The cruciality of the cross : The self-recovery of holiness -- Hallowed be they name : Holiness' self-recovery in the human conscience ; Recovering Forsyth's vision of humanity ; Forsyth on the human conscience : Moral centre, consanguinity and sphere of redemption ; Forsyth on the 'new' conscience - the conquering and sanctification of humanity's moral centre -- Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory. Amen ; For the sins of the world : 'So that by the Grace of God He Might Taste Death for Everyone' ; Revising election ; Pareschatology and the hope of hallowed life ; Soteriological universalism qualified ; Problems with Forsyth's qualifications ; The self-realization, or the frustration, of holiness? ; Amen - holiness, 'the last reality' -- By way of conclusion : Heaven's laughter.

Sommario/riassunto	This book fills a noticeable gap in Forsyth studies. It provides readers interested in the thought of Forsyth with a way of reading and critiquing his corpus, and that in a way that takes due account of, and elucidates, the theological, philosophical and historical locale of his thought. Goroncy explores whether the notion of 'hallowing' provides a profitable lens through which to read and evaluate Forsyth's soteriology. He suggests that the hallowing of God's name is, for Forsyth, the way whereby God both justifies himself and claims creation for divine service.