

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910783750603321
Autore	Woolford Andrew John <1971->
Titolo	Between justice and certainty : the British Columbia treaty process / / Andrew Woolford
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Vancouver : , : UBC Press, , 2005 ©2005
ISBN	0-7748-5163-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (ix, 229 pages)
Collana	Law and society
Disciplina	342.7108/72/089972
Soggetti	Indians of North America - British Columbia Indians of North America - British Columbia - Government relations Indians of North America - Legal status, laws, etc - British Columbia
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Between the procedure and substance of justice The imposition of colonial visions of justice First nations justice frames The British Columbia treaty process Visions of justice Visions of certainty
Sommario/riassunto	"In Between Justice and Certainty, Andrew Woolford examines the interplay between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal visions of justice and certainty in the first decade of the B.C. treaty process to determine whether there is a space between the two concepts in which modern treaties can be made." "Using interviews, field research, and both archival and modern treaty documents, Woolford argues that the goal of certainty is overriding the demand for justice, and suggests that greater attention to justice is necessary if we are to initiate a process of reconciliation between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal peoples in British Columbia."--Jacket