

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910783859103321
Titolo	Hearing the voices of children : social policy for a new century // edited by Christine Hallett and Alan Prout
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London ; ; New York : , : RoutledgeFalmer, , 2003
ISBN	1-134-47498-9 1-134-47499-7 0-415-27642-X 1-280-04922-7 0-203-46461-3
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (281 p.)
Collana	The future of childhood series
Altri autori (Persone)	HallettChristine ProutAlan (Alan Stanley)
Disciplina	306/.083
Soggetti	Children and politics Children - Political activity Children - Attitudes Social policy
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Preliminaries; Contents; Notes on contributors; Acknowledgements; Introduction; 1 Participation policy and the changing conditions of childhood; 2 Children's participation in policy matters; 3 Children's participation through community development assessing the lessons from international experience; 4 Citizen child London children's participation in the Office of the Children's Rights Commissioner for London; 5 Finnish conceptions of children and the history of child welfare; 6 The needy child and the naturalization of politics political debate in Germany 7 Contradictory and convergent trends in law and policy affecting children in England8 Young people and welfare negotiating pathways; 9 Could have helped but they didn't the formal and informal support systems experienced by children living with domestic violence; 10 Children's participation in family law matters; 11 The social construction of competence and problem behaviour among children; 12

Reconstructing disability childhood and social poli

Sommario/riassunto

The main theme of this book is the emergence of 'the child's voice' and the implications of this for social policy across countries and continents.