

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910784674203321
Autore	Zimring Franklin E.
Titolo	American youth violence // Franklin E. Zimring
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, New York : , : Oxford University Press, , 1998 ©1998
ISBN	0-19-771833-7 1-280-47070-4 9786610470709 1-4237-6004-2 0-19-535290-4 1-60256-293-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (224 p.)
Collana	Studies in Crime and Public Policy
Disciplina	364.360973
Soggetti	Juvenile delinquency - Government policy - United States Violent crimes - Government policy - United States Juvenile justice, Administration of - United States
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese Medio (1100-1500)
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Pt. I. Youth Violence in the 1990's. 1. The Perception of a Problem Is a Problem. 2. American Youth Violence - A Profile. 3. A Youth Violence Epidemic: Myth or Reality? 4. The Case of the Terrifying Toddlers -- Pt. II. Legal Policy Toward Youth Violence. 5. Some Basic Principles. 6. Firearms Policy for the Young. 7. "That Malice Which Is to Supply Age": Standards for Transfer to Criminal Court. 8. Adolescents Who Kill -- Pt. III. Two Larger Contexts. 9. Youth Violence and the Future of the Juvenile Court. 10. Youth Violence and Youth Policy.
Sommario/riassunto	This is an examination of adolescent violence in the United States as both a social phenomenon and a policy problem. Franklin Zimring, a scholar of law and crime, scrutinizes criminal statistics and demographic trends in order to authoritatively address public worries.