

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910784685703321
Titolo	Football goes east : business, culture, and the people's game in China, Japan, and South Korea // edited by Wolfram Manzenreiter and John Horne
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London ; ; New York : , : Routledge, , 2004
ISBN	1-134-36557-8 1-134-36558-6 0-203-34793-5 1-280-10664-6 0-203-61921-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (285 p.)
Altri autori (Persone)	HorneJohn <1955-> ManzenreiterWolfram
Disciplina	796.334/095
Soggetti	Soccer - Economic aspects - East Asia
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Book Cover; Title; Contents; List of illustrations; List of contributors; Preface; Football, culture, globalisation: why professional football has been going East; The business of football in East Asian nation-states; Strategies for locating professional sports leagues: a comparison between France and Korea; The making of a professional football league: the design of the J.League system; Football in the People's Republic of China; Players and supporters of the East Asian game; Japanese football players and the sport talent migration business Football 'hooligans' and football supporters' culture in ChinaSchool sport, physical education and the development of football culture in Japan; Government involvement in football in Korea; Football, representation and identity in East Asia after 2002; Football and the South Korean imagination: South Korea and the 2002 World Cup tournaments; Football, fashion and fandom: sociological reflections on the 2002 World Cup and collective memories in Korea; The banality
Sommario/riassunto	Global popular culture and big business have revolutionised the East in a generation. Football, Sport of the masses and now commercial super power, has travelled with this tide of change in the East in its own right.
