

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910785951303321
Autore	Chen Ping <1973->
Titolo	Assimilation of immigrants and their adult children [[electronic resource] ] : college education, cohabitation, and work / / Ping Chen
Pubbl/distr/stampa	El Paso [Tex.], : LFB Scholarly Pub., 2010
ISBN	1-59332-644-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (189 p.)
Collana	The new Americans : recent immigration and American society
Disciplina	305.9/06912
Soggetti	Americanization Adult children of immigrants - United States United States Emigration and immigration Social aspects
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	CONTENTS; Acknowledgement; 1 Introduction; 2 Assimilation of College Education: Intergenerational and Inter-Class Mobility of the Second Immigrant Generation; 3 Cohabitation and Marriage among Immigrant Youth During Transition to Adulthood; 4 Divergent Paths of Economic Adaptation: Nativity and Immigrant Statuses, Labor Segment Membership and Economic Well-Being; 5 Conclusion; Appendix A; Appendix B; References; Index
Sommario/riassunto	Chen studies recent immigrants and their adult children in three domains: college education, union formation, and work. In education, Chen finds that second-generation youth universally achieve higher in high school graduation than their immigrant parents. However, assimilation in terms of college education is lower among some ethnic groups due to social, cultural and structural factors. In family life, Chen finds that being raised in immigrant families protects youth from assimilating into the alternative life style of cohabitation and encourages marriage. In employment, nativity and immigran