

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910786221403321
Autore	Alexander Alison
Titolo	The ambitions of Jane Franklin // Alison Alexander
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Sydney, Melbourne ; ; Auckland ; ; London : , : Allen & Unwin, , 2013
ISBN	1-74343-396-4
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (317 p.)
Disciplina	910.92
Soggetti	Women explorers - Great Britain - History - 19th century Explorers - Great Britain - History - 19th century Explorers' spouses - Great Britain - History - 19th century Women - Australia - History Governors' spouses - Australia - Tasmania - History - 19th century Women travelers - Great Britain - History - 19th century Northwest Passage Discovery and exploration British Arctic regions Discovery and exploration British Tasmania History 1803-1900 Biography
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	"Victorian lady adventurer"--Cover.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages [278]-287) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Part Title; Title Page; Dedication; Imprint page; Contents; Introduction; Chapter 1: A girl who did not fit in; Chapter 2: The Franklin connection; Chapter 3: An occasional marriage; Chapter 4: To Van Dieman's Land; Chapter 5: The governor's lady; Chapter 6: The home front; Picture section; Chapter 7: Female convicts; Chapter 8: Improving the colony; Chapter 9: The Aborigines; Picture section; Chapter 10: Mount Wellington, Sydney and beyond; Chapter 11: Three women's lives; Chapter 12: The political question; Chapter 13: Jane Franklin v. John Montagu; Chapter 14: John Franklin disappears Chapter 15: Jane Franklin's SearchChapter 16: Family upsets; Chapter 17: Victory; Acknowledgements; Notes; Bibliography; Index
Sommario/riassunto	A genius at publicity before the term existed, Jane Franklin was a celebrity in the mid-19th century. This is her remarkable life, including her extensive travels, her years in Tasmania as the governor's wife, and her very public battle to save husband

