	Sommario/riassunto	"Reason shall rule over the passions." In 4 Maccabees, a scripture structured as a praise to God, the anthropocentric focus of this oft-repeated central thesis calls attention to the nature of God's role. This study traces in detail the development of the image of God in 4 Maccabees, and shows that for its author, anthropology is fundamentally rooted in his understanding of God. »Die Urteilskraft herrscht über die Leidenschaften.« So lautet die Leitthese des 4. Makkabäerbuches, welche in den 18 Kapiteln dieser Schrift in verschiedensten Variationen über hundertmal wiederholt wird. Diese spürbare thematische Fokussierung auf den Aspekt der menschlichen Handlungsverantwortung ruft in einer ausdrücklich als Gotteslob angelegten Schrift die Frage nach der Rolle Gottes auf den Plan. Wie wird von ihm gesprochen? Wo und wie ist er in den Text eingebunden? Wie werden göttliches und menschliches Handeln einander zugeordnet? Die vorliegende Untersuchung geht diesen

Fragen nach und erweist die grundlegende Verwurzelung der Anthropologie des 4Makk-Verfassers in seiner Gottesvorstellung. Dazu wird die textinterne Entfaltung des Gottesbildes nachgezeichnet, in dessen Zentrum Gott als allweiser Schöpfer und durchsetzungsstarker Gesetzgeber erscheint.

| Sommario/riassunto | The mental representation of language cannot be directly observed but must be inferred and modelled from its effects at second hand. Linguists have traditionally responded to this in two ways, either going for a fairly data-light approach and valuing theoretical creativity, or pursuing just those goals for which data is available and trusting to data-driven descriptive work. More recently, advances in technology and experimental techniques have made data gathering easier and more accessible, so that a theoretically informed but empirically based approach is rapidly growing in popularity. This synthesis permits linguists to combine the intellectual hypothesis generation of the theoreticians with the ability to deliver hard answers of the empiricist. This volume is a collection of papers in this direction, using mostly experiment methods to yield insights into syntactic and semantic structures, language processing, and acquisition. Papers report corpus data, neurological investigations, child language studies, and fieldwork from minority languages. |
