1. Record Nr. UNINA9910786711403321 Autore Kim Dae Young <1968-> Titolo Second-generation Korean Americans [[electronic resource]]: the struggle for full inclusion / / Dae Young Kim El Paso, : LFB Scholarly Pub. LLC, 2013 Pubbl/distr/stampa ISBN 1-59332-719-6 Descrizione fisica 1 online resource (229 p.) Collana New Americans: recent immigration and American society 973/.04957 Disciplina Soggetti Korean Americans Children of immigrants - United States Lingua di pubblicazione Inglese Formato Materiale a stampa Livello bibliografico Monografia Note generali Description based upon print version of record. Includes bibliographical references and index. Nota di bibliografia CONTENTS; Acknowledgments; Chapter One: Introduction; Chapter Nota di contenuto Two: ""Harvard, Harvard, Harvard!"": The Pursuit of Elite High Schools and Colleges; Chapter Three: ""Not a Deli. That's Too Hard."": From Korean Immigrant Small Businesses to Professional Occupations: Chapter Four: ""They Know Only Three Careers-Medicine, Law, and Engineering."": Second-Generation Job Search and Work Experience; Chapter Five: ""You Drive Anywhere West of Pennsylvania ... and People Stare."": Racial Othering and Its Impact on Second-Generation Identities Chapter Six: ""He Just Avoids Korean Americas Like the Plaque."": Second-Generation Responses to Racialization Chapter Seven: ""Politicians, It's All Talk and No Action."": The Struggle for Political Integration; Chapter Eight: Conclusion: The Making of Ethnic and Panethnic Identities; Appendix A: Binary logistic regression - education; Appendix B: Korean American self-employment and occupation;

Sommario/riassunto

Kim argues that educational and occupational success for groups in the racial middle such as Korean and Asian Americans does not necessarily translate into further integration in other sectors of American society. Educational and professional accomplishments, while accelerating integration and acceptance, can be accompanied by exclusion in other sectors of society. Thus, Korean and Asian Americans may experience rapid intergenerational upward mobility and integration, but still be subject racialization and exclusion. This challenges the assimilation

Appendix C: Binary logistic regression - politics; References; Index

paradigm that immigrants and their children