

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910786844003321
Autore	Goh Keng Swee <1918->
Titolo	The practice of economic growth [[electronic resource] /] / Goh Keng Swee
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Singapore, : Marshall Cavendish Academic, 2004
ISBN	981-4382-71-X
Edizione	[2nd ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (282 p.)
Collana	Economics & policy studies The practice of economic growth
Disciplina	309.1
	309.1595
Soggetti	Singapore Economics conditions Singapore Social conditions
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Previous ed.: Singapore : Federal Publications, c1977.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	pt. 1. Economics -- pt. 2. Industrial relations -- pt. 3. Sociology -- pt. 4. Miscellaneous.
Sommario/riassunto	The importance of fast economic growth in developing countries has been an undeniable fact since the early 1970's, Singapore, in its rise from a struggling colony to its present status as an economic success, offers a glimpse of the factors that contribute to the growth of a thriving economy. This book is a collection of Dr. Goh's essays during his years as Minister of Defence. Besides defence, Dr Goh explores sociological and economic issues extensively. (30 speeches and essays, 1972-77)