

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910786891803321
Autore	Woo X. L.
Titolo	Two republics in China : how imperial China became the PRC // X. L. Woo
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York : , : Algora Publishing, , 2014 ©2014
ISBN	1-62894-098-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (218 p.)
Disciplina	951.05
Soggetti	Republics - History - 20th century Communism - China - History - 20th century Social change - China - History - 20th century Social conflict - China - History - 20th century China Politics and government 20th century China History Republic, 1912-1949 China History 1949-1976 China History, Military 20th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Part One ; Chapter 1. 1911: How the Last Dynasty Crumbled and Warlords Took Over; Rebellion in Wuchang City; The Establishment of the Republic of China; The Ambition of Yuan Shikai; How Yuan became president of the Republic of China; Chaos; Restoration of the abdicated emperor; May 4 student movement; Battles in the southwestern provinces; Sun Yat-sen goes north, looking to overthrow the Peking government; Chen Jiongming turns traitor in Canton; Early History of the Communist Party of China; The organization of the Communist Party of China; Whampoa military academy The Break-up of the Nationalist Party and the Communist Party Victory of the Revolutionary Army and the final break between the two parties; Chapter 2. The First Civil War Between the Nationalist Party and the Communist Party; Communist Party Riots; The riot in Nanchang City; Mao Zedong resorts to rebellion; Chiang Kai-Shek Besieges the Red Army Five Times; The first siege; The second siege; The third siege;

The establishment of the Red government in Ruijin ; The fourth siege; The fifth siege; The Famous Long March ; The military coup d'etat in Xian City

Chapter 3. The Japanese Invasion of China Events Leading Up to the Sino-Japanese War in 1937; The 9/18 event; The 1/28 event; The establishment of Manchukuo; The 12/9 event; The Outbreak of the Sino-Japanese War, Or the Anti-Japanese War; The double 7s event-Lugou Bridge event; The 8/13 event-battle in Shanghai; The battles in Shanxi province; The slaughter in Nanking; The battles in Shandong province; The battles at Wuhan city area; The Japanese army takes Canton in the south; The Japanese army attacks Changsha City three times; The battles in Nanning City

The battles of 100 regiments of the Communist Party The campaigns in northern Burma and western Yunnan province; The campaigns in the western Hunan province; Building the Communist Ranks in YanAn ; Gathering students ; Jiang Qing-Mao Zedong's 4th wife -in Yanan; Mao's marriage history and his other women ; The Puppet Governments in China Under Japan; The assassination of Wang Jingwei; The puppet government in Nanking; The rectification campaign of the Communist Party in yan'an; Chapter 4. The Second Civil War Between the Nationalist Party and the Communist Party

Conflicts Between the Two Parties to Take Over Areas Occupied By Japan America's mediation between the Nationalist Party and the Communist Party; The Nationalist Government Was Expelled to Taiwan; The second civil war actually began; The campaign in the northeastern provinces; The campaign in Huaihai River area; The campaign in Peking and Tianjin area; The end of the second civil war; Part Two; Chapter 5. The Establishment of the People's Republic of China; The Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference; The Ceremony of the Establishment of the People's Republic of China
The Ruling System of the People's Republic of China

Sommario/riassunto

Mr. Woo continues his history of China from 1911, when the Qing dynasty was overthrown after the death of Empress Dowager Cixi, to modern times: a tumultuous century that saw chaos and warlords, invasions, regime change, confiscation of property, and later a return to a mixed economy allowing some capitalist features. In fact, China now has over 100 billionaires - but many families lost everything along the way.
