

|                         |  |
|-------------------------|--|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910787886703321  |
| Autore                  | Thai Hung Cam <1976->  |
| Titolo                  | Insufficient funds : the culture of money in low-wage transnational families // Hung Cam Thai  |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Stanford, California : , : Stanford University Press, , [2014]©2014  |
| ISBN                    | 0-8047-9056-6  |
| Descrizione fisica      | 1 online resource (509 p.)   |
| Disciplina              | 305.8959/22073   |
| Soggetti                | Vietnamese - United States - Economic conditionsVietnamese - United States - Social conditionsImmigrants - Family relationships - United StatesImmigrants - Family relationships - VietnamMoney - Social aspects - United StatesMoney - Social aspects - VietnamFamilies - Economic aspects - United StatesFamilies - Economic aspects - VietnamTransnationalism - Social aspects - United StatesTransnationalism - Social aspects - Vietnam |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese  |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa   |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia   |
| Note generali           | Description based upon print version of record.  |
| Nota di bibliografia    | Includes bibliographical references and index.   |
| Nota di contenuto       | Six tales of migrant money -- The making of a transnational expenditure cascade -- Money as a currency of care -- The migrant provider role -- The American dream in Vietnam -- Compensatory consumption -- Emulative consumption -- The cyclical entrenchment of monetary habits -- The high price of esteem consumption -- Tall promises -- Conclusion : special money in low-wage transnational families.   |
| Sommario/riassunto      | Every year migrants across the globe send more than  |