| Sommario/riassunto      | The interest in computer-mediated communication (CMC) has vastlyrisen over the recent years. Nevertheless, crosscultural differences inCMC have received little attention so far, especially with regard tocomplaining behaviour. This book therefore contributes to this stillunexplored research area by comparing British English and Germancomplaints in CMC, precisely on eBay. The empirical study statisticallyanalyses online complaints taken from the feedback forum of thisonline auction house and shows both similarities and differences in theway speakers of the two cultures formulate their on |
