

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910789828403321
Autore	Schwitzgebel Eric
Titolo	Perplexities of consciousness / / Eric Schwitzgebel
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cambridge, Mass., : MIT Press, ©2011
ISBN	0-262-29508-3 1-283-02014-9 9786613020147 0-262-29533-4
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (238 p.)
Collana	Life and mind : philosophical issues in biology and psychology
Disciplina	126
Soggetti	Consciousness Philosophy of mind
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	"A Bradford book."
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Recoloring the dreamworld -- Do things look flat? -- Galton's other folly -- Human echolocation -- Titchener's introspective training manual -- Do you have constant tactile experience of your feet in your shoes? and some pessimistic thoughts about theories of consciousness -- The unreliability of naive introspection -- When your eyes are closed, what do you see?
Sommario/riassunto	In this book, the author examines various aspects of inner life (dreams, mental imagery, emotions, and other subjective phenomena) and argues that we know very little about our stream of conscious experience. In fact, he contends, we are prone to gross error about our ongoing emotional, visual, and cognitive experiences.