

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910790095903321
Autore	Johnson James Turner
Titolo	Ethics and the use of force [[electronic resource] ] : just war in historical perspective // James Turner Johnson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Farnham, Surrey, England ; ; Burlington, Vt., : Ashgate, c2011
ISBN	1-315-58038-1 1-317-14119-9 1-317-14118-0 1-283-09022-8 9786613090225 1-4094-1858-8
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (183 p.)
Collana	Justice, international law and global security
Disciplina	241/.6242
Soggetti	Just war doctrine - History War - Religious aspects - Christianity - History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	pt. 1. Two moral traditions on the use of armed force -- pt. 2. Just war and international law -- pt. 3. Just war and political realism -- pt. 4. Pressing contemporary problems.
Sommario/riassunto	This book explores how and why just war tradition coalesced and how it has developed. By highlighting the just war tradition in historical perspective, this valuable study looks at contemporary implications drawn out in the context of important contemporary debates.