

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910790485103321
Autore	Kulick Andreas <1982->
Titolo	Global public interest in international investment law // Andreas Kulick [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cambridge : , : Cambridge University Press, , 2012
ISBN	1-139-50830-X 1-107-23163-9 1-283-52178-4 1-139-51794-5 9786613834232 1-139-51887-9 1-139-51444-X 1-139-12897-3 1-139-51536-5 1-139-51701-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xxix, 378 pages) : digital, PDF file(s)
Collana	Cambridge studies in international and comparative law
Disciplina	346/.092
Soggetti	Investments, Foreign - Law and legislation Investments, Foreign (International law) International commercial arbitration
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Title from publisher's bibliographic system (viewed on 14 Jan 2016).
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Global Public Interest in International Investment Law; Series Page; Title; Copyright; Dedication; Contents; Foreword; Acknowledgments; Table of Cases; Table of Treaties and Other Documents; 1: Introduction; Part I: Towards the Global Public Interest theory; 2: The "internationalization" of international investment law; A. A first glance at Article 42(1) ICSID; "Article 42; 1. Context: general principle of Article 42 ICSID is freedom of choice; 2. Possible cases in which international law may be applicable under Article 42 ICSID 3. International law as applicable even in case of an exclusive choice of domestic law according to Article 42(1) first sentence ICSIDB. Drafting history of Article 42(1) second sentence ICSID; C. The role of BITs in international investment law; 1. BITs as a recent phenomenon; 2. Codification and promotion of international law through BITs; D. The relationship of domestic law and international law; 1. Preliminary remarks; 2. The Klockner-Amco doctrine³⁹; (a) Case law under ICSID; (i) "Supplemental and corrective functions" of international law; (ii) Domestic law as the primary source (iii) Conclusion(b) Approaches in scholarly writing; (i) Scholarly writing promoting the Klockner-Amco doctrine; (ii) Critique of the Klockner-Amco doctrine; (iii) Reisman: Corrective function only when collision with fundamental norms of international law; 3. The dissolution of the Klockner-Amco doctrine; (a) First doubts: the Amco resubmitted case award; (b) The advent of BITs; (c) The growing role of international law; 4. A new doctrine: Wena; (a) The Wena decision⁹³; (b) The first years after Wena: some ambiguities; (c) Confirmation and interpretation of the Wena doctrine

5. The Argentine crisis Tribunals and beyond¹¹⁸(a) International and domestic law as comprehensive legal orders; (b) International law as ultimately supreme; E. The changing face of international investment law; 1. Six preliminary observations; 2. "Prominent role": The "internationalization" of international investment law; 3. The "integration" of international investment law¹⁶²; 4. Outlook: The public interest challenge; 5. Consequences of the above findings: Three hypotheticals; (a) Environment; (b) Human rights; (c) Corruption

3: Public interest and international economic law - current approachesA. Scholarly approaches towards international legal obligations of MNEs; 1. A scholarly attempt to shape the practice: The Norms on the Responsibilities of Transnational Corporations and Other Business Enterprises with Regard to Human Rights; 2. Scholarly approaches towards an international legal personality of MNEs; (a) Strict positivist view: only States as subjects of international law; (b) Different approaches endorsing an international legal personality of MNEs; (c) Conclusion

B. Public interest considerations in recent BIT practice

Sommario/riassunto

The strengths of international investment law - above all, a strong focus on investor interests and an effective adjudication and enforcement system - also entail its weaknesses: it runs the danger of impeding or even sanctioning the host states' legitimate regulatory interests and ignoring other fields of public international law. How does it cope with public interest concerns such as human rights, the environment or the fight against corruption? At the heart of this book lies a fresh approach towards a general theory of such global public interest considerations in the investment realm. Delineating how and why those considerations matter, and why the current system does not accommodate them properly, Andreas Kulick fleshes out general principles and customary international law as defences the host state may raise against alleged investor rights infringements and promotes proportionality as the appropriate balancing mechanism.
