

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910790829603321
Autore	Lampe Evan
Titolo	Work, class, and power in the borderlands of the early American Pacific : the labors of empire // Evan Lampe
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham, Maryland : , : Lexington Books, , 2014 ©2014
ISBN	0-7391-8242-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (222 p.)
Disciplina	331.1209182/309034
Soggetti	Labor - Pacific Area - History Pacific Area Commerce United States United States Commerce Pacific Area Pacific Area History Pacific Area Foreign relations United States United States Foreign relations Pacific Area
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	WORK, CLASS, AND POWER IN THE BORDERLANDS OF THE EARLY AMERICAN PACIFIC; Contents; Acknowledgments; 1 Introduction: Looking at the China Trade from Above and from Below; 2 Power, Resistance, and Culture on the American Pacific Merchant Ship; 3 The Sea Otter Fur Trade on the Northwest Coast of America: Trade, Work, and Power; 4 Stephen Reynolds in Honolulu: Community and Class in a Pacific Port; 5 The Canton Gated Community: Workers, Elite, and the China Trade; 6 Conclusion; Bibliography; Index; About the Author
Sommario/riassunto	This book explores the nature of power and labor in the early American Pacific from the perspective of sailors, merchants, and the people they encounters across the Pacific. By looking at Honolulu, the merchant ship, Canton, the Whampoa anchorage and the northwest coast, this book considers the broader Pacific while not losing sight of the experiences of the individual sailors, laborers, and port-city denizens.