

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910792656403321
Autore	Morris Travis <1973-, >
Titolo	Dark ideas : how neo-Nazi and violent jihadi ideologues shaped modern terrorism / / Travis Morris
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham, Maryland : , : Lexington Books, , [2017] ©2017
ISBN	1-4985-4872-5 0-7391-9105-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (171 pages)
Disciplina	320.53/30973
Soggetti	Neo-Nazism - United States - History Right-wing extremists - United States - History Islamic fundamentalism - History Terrorism - History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction -- Manufacturing divine traitors : Sayyid Qutb and Ben Klassen -- The need to weaponize ideas : Anwar al-Awlaki and William Pierce -- Strategizing new violence : Abdullah Azzam and Louis Beam -- Shifting the targeting paradigm : Osama bin Laden and George Lincoln Rockwell -- The need to create soft extremism : Mohammed Maqdisi and David Duke -- The way forward : focus on the source, not just the symptoms -- Appendix
Sommario/riassunto	Dark Ideas provides readers with a different method of understanding how ideas can transform violent extremism. Over recent decades, violent jihadi and neo-Nazi ideologues have continued to promote new strategic and tactical innovations that shaped the evolution of terrorism. Many of these "dark" innovations have now become accepted practices by groups and individuals, yet they are rarely examined.