

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910793541003321
Titolo	Getting the most out of your doctorate : the importance of supervision, networking, and becoming a global academic // edited by Mollie Dollinger
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bingley, UK : , : Emerald Publishing, , 2019
ISBN	1-78769-907-2 1-78769-905-6
Edizione	[First edition.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (166 pages)
Collana	Surviving and thriving in academia
Disciplina	001.42
Soggetti	Doctoral students Dissertations, Academic Education - Higher Higher & further education, tertiary education
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di contenuto	Prelims -- Preparation -- Mediating -- Understanding your place -- Index.
Sommario/riassunto	Beyond the doctoral thesis itself, the most significant factors in the progression of PhD candidature and early academic careers are: the relationships between the researcher and their supervisor(s), the ability to network, and understanding one's place in the global research arena. Navigating these critical factors and moving from a novice to expert, is a critical undertaking for every PhD candidate and a process that will continue for years following one's PhD. In this book, scholars from around the world offer practical advice on how to get the most out of one's doctorate. Readers will get helpful tips on how to sustain healthy and long-lasting relationships with their supervisors, learn how to develop their networks, and understand the important changes impacting the modern PhD candidate.