

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910795223703321
Autore	Edwards Lee <1932->
Titolo	Just right : a life in pursuit of liberty // Lee Edwards
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Wilmington, Delaware : , : ISI Books, , 2017 ©2017
ISBN	1-68451-679-X 1-5040-5020-7
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (384 pages)
Disciplina	320.52092
Soggetti	Conservatism - United States Historians - United States Conservatives - United States United States Politics and government 1945-1989 United States Politics and government 1989-
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di contenuto	Cradle conservative -- Paris holiday -- The movement -- Rebels with a cause -- Reluctant champion -- The day Kennedy died -- Decision time -- A choice, not an echo -- The real Barry Goldwater -- The must primary -- Civil rights and the constitution -- Convention -- Things that matter -- Extremism and liberty -- Anything goes -- Let Goldwater be Goldwater -- Landslide -- 27 million americans can't be wrong -- On my own -- Author, author -- The "voice" of the silent majority -- Square power -- The rabbi and the president -- The new right -- The changing face of conservatism -- Captive nations and peoples -- Leaving the arena -- Back to school -- Defalcation -- Missionaries for freedom -- "Dear Bill" -- The making of a memorial -- The final step -- Dedication day -- Chimera? -- Trumped -- Coda.
Sommario/riassunto	"Lee Edwards is a historian of the conservative movement who has been present at nearly every major event of the modern conservative movement. His memoir reveals his insider account of Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign; how he first interviewed Ronald Reagan when the actor was thinking of running for governor; how he created the Victims of Communism Memorial in Washington, and much more."--

