

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910796431503321
Autore	Donald David Herbert <1920-2009.>
Titolo	Why the North won the Civil War // edited by David Donald ; essays by Richard N. Current [and four others] ; with a foreword by U.S. Grant III
Pubbl/distr/stampa	[Place of publication not identified] : , : Pickle Partners Publishing, , 2014 ©1960
ISBN	1-78625-198-1
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (93 pages)
Disciplina	973.713
Soggetti	Confederate States of America History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Introduction -- Foreword / U. S. Grant III -- Editor's preface -- God and the strongest battalions / Richard N. Current -- The military leadership of North and South / T. Harry Williams -- Northern diplomacy and European neutrality / Norman A. Graebner -- Died of democracy / David Donald -- Jefferson Davis and the political factors in Confederate defeat / David M. Potter -- For further reading -- Request from the publisher -- Why the South lost.
Sommario/riassunto	Each of the articles here assembled is an authoritative discussion of one of the factors that militated against the Confederacy's final victory. Moreover, these factors, presented from the overall point of view, too generally have been inadequately stressed or even entirely overlooked by many histories of the War. In now bringing these factors to public attention and giving them their proper emphasis lies the importance of this book. Even many "Civil War buffs" may be apprised of facts of which they have heretofore been unaware or to which they have given little thought. - Introduction.