

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910796718103321
Autore	Vecoli Rudolph J.
Titolo	Oh Capitano! : Celso Cesare Moreno—Adventurer, Cheater, and Scoundrel on Four Continents // Francesco Durante, Rudolph J. Vecoli; Donna R. Gabaccia
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, NY : , : Fordham University Press, , [2018] ©2018
ISBN	0-8232-8142-6 0-8232-7988-X 0-8232-7989-8
Edizione	[First edition.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource
Collana	Fordham scholarship online
Altri autori (Persone)	VendittoElizabeth O
Disciplina	910.92 B
Soggetti	Explorers - Italy
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	This edition previously issued in print: 2018. Translated from the Italian.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Front matter -- contents -- preface -- prologue -- Introduction to the English-Language Edition: "Was Moreno a Sociopath?" -- Translator's Note -- chapter 1. The Traveler's Spirit -- chapter 2. The Treasures of Asia -- chapter 3. The Challenge of the Pacific -- chapter 4. The Little Italian Slaves -- chapter 5. The Enchanter of Hawaii -- chapter 6. Celso's Vendetta -- chapter 7. Electoral Intermezzo -- chapter 8. The New Italian America -- chapter 9. The Destiny of Hawaii -- chapter 10. The Sunset Road -- notes -- bibliography -- index
Sommario/riassunto	The story of Celso Cesare Moreno, one of the most famous of the emigrant Italian elites or "prominenti." Moreno traveled the world lying, scheming, and building an extensive patron/client network to to establish his reputation as a middleman and person of significance. Through his machinations, Moreno became a critical player in the expansion of western trade and imperialism in Asia, the trafficking of migrant workers and children in the Atlantic, and the conflicts of Americans and natives over the fate of Hawaii, and imperial competitions of French, British, Italian and American governments during a critically important era of imperial expansion.
