

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910797357603321
Autore	Zhang Xiaoming <1951->
Titolo	Deng Xiaoping's long war : the military conflict between China and Vietnam, 1979-1991 // Xiaoming Zhang
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Chapel Hill : , : The University of North Carolina Press, , 2015 Baltimore, Md. : , : Project MUSE, , 2015 ©2015
ISBN	979-88-908436-3-0 1-4696-2339-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (294 pages)
Collana	The New Cold War History
Disciplina	959.704/4
Soggetti	Sino-Vietnamese Conflict, 1979
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	The roots of the Sino-Vietnamese conflict -- Deng Xiaoping and China's war decision -- Planning and preparation for the invasion -- Bloodshed over Vietnam's Northern Border Region -- Reassessing the 1979 War -- A decade long continued border conflict, 1980-1990 -- Under the shadow of the border conflict -- The road to conflict termination -- Conclusion: a personal retrospective on China's border war, rapprochement with Vietnam, and implications for East Asian affairs.
Sommario/riassunto	The surprise Chinese invasion of Vietnam in 1979 shocked the international community. In this groundbreaking book, Xiaoming Zhang traces the roots of the conflict to the historic relationship between the peoples of China and Vietnam, the ongoing Sino-Soviet dispute, and Chinese leader Deng Xiaoping's desire to modernize his country.