

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910797561903321
Autore	Kandathil George
Titolo	Contradictions of employee involvement in organizational change : the transformation efforts in NCJM, an Indian industrial cooperative // George M. Kandathil
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham [Maryland] : , : Lexington Books, , [2015] ©2015
ISBN	1-4985-0568-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (193 p.)
Disciplina	658.4/06
Soggetti	Management - Employee participation - India Producer cooperatives - India Organizational change - India
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; List of Tables; List of Figures; List of Abbreviations; Acknowledgments; Preface; Chapter One. A Researcher's Odyssey; Chapter Two. The Riddle of Employee Involvement in Organizational Transformation; Chapter Three. The Research Process; Chapter Four. A Panoramic View of the Transformation Efforts in NCJM; Chapter Five. Unpacking the Rubrics of Employee Involvement in the Transformation; Chapter Six. The Tangled Tapestry of Information Sharing and Worker Expectation; Chapter Seven. Looking Backward, Looking Forward Appendix A. Various Departments in the NCJM Plant (pre- and post-takeover)Appendix B. Organizational Structure of NCJM after Takeover (as of 1 June 1997); Appendix C. Production Process Flow Chart; Appendix D. Post-Takeover Productivity during 1987-1997; Appendix E. Strike History; Appendix F. Agreements during the Formation of the Cooperative; References; Index; About the Author
Sommario/riassunto	This book explores employee involvement in the transformation of an ailing business as it was taken over by workers and became a sustainable worker cooperative. The focus is on the struggles within the cooperative that create contradictions and mismatches in the expectations around employee involvement in the transformation as the business evolves.
