

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910798646603321
Autore	Jenkins Sherman L. <1956->
Titolo	Ted Strong Jr. : the untold story of an original Harlem Globetrotter and Negro Leagues All-Star // Sherman L. Jenkins
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham : , : Rowman & Littlefield, , [2016] ©2016
ISBN	1-4422-6728-3
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (205 p.)
Disciplina	796.323092
Soggetti	Basketball players - United States Baseball players - United States Negro leagues - History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Prologue -- It started with a Senior -- "Ted was big for his age" -- Ted Jr. comes into his own -- The sky is the limit -- Prime Time abound with hiccups -- The 15th season -- 1942-1943 - A season of change, World War II calls -- The brothers return -- "Life for me ain't been no crystal stair" -- 1947 -- Ted Jr.'s younger brother begins to "break em" off -- Twilight triple header -- Epilogue.
Sommario/riassunto	This book is the first biography of Ted Strong Jr., a two-sport athlete of the Negro Leagues and the Harlem Globetrotters. Born Theodore Relighn Strong Jr. in South Bend, Indiana, the eldest of 14 children, Ted was raised in the Black Belt of South Side Chicago. He was one of the original Harlem Globetrotters and a major star in the Negro Baseball Leagues. This biography displays the determination of a man who excelled despite the odds experienced by African Americans in the 1930s, 40s, and 50s.