

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910806161003321
Autore	McCurry Stephanie
Titolo	Masters of small worlds : yeoman households, gender relations, and the political culture of the antebellum South Carolina Low Country // Stephanie McCurry [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York ; , : Oxford University Press, , 2023
ISBN	0-19-771461-7 1-4237-6465-X 1-280-44129-1 1-60129-852-8 0-19-972812-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xx, 320p.) : facsim., map
Collana	Oxford scholarship online
Disciplina	975.703
Soggetti	Political culture - South Carolina - History - 19th century Social classes - South Carolina - History - 19th century Sex role - South Carolina - History - 19th century Slavery - South Carolina - History - 19th century South Carolina History 1775-1865
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Previously issued in print: 1995.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Sommario/riassunto	This social history describes the yeomanry (small farmers) in South Carolina before the US Civil War. It focuses on the relationship between these farmers and the planters, with whom they had strong ideological ties. The study also deals with issues of gender and class.