

|                         |   |
|-------------------------|---|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910807112603321   |
| Titolo                  | Using training to build capacity for development : : an evaluation of the World Bank's project-based and WBI training // World Bank Independent Evaluation Group  |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Washington, D.C. : , : World Bank, , 2008   |
| ISBN                    | 1-281-87868-597866118786890-8213-7379-X   |
| Descrizione fisica      | xxiv, 118 pages : color illustrations ; ; 28 cm   |
| Disciplina              | 658.3124  |
| Soggetti                | Economic development projects - Developing countries - EvaluationEconomic assistance - Developing countries - EvaluationVocational education - Developing countries - Evaluation  |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese   |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa  |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia  |
| Note generali           | Description based upon print version of record.   |
| Nota di bibliografia    | Includes bibliographical references (p. 115-118).   |
| Nota di contenuto       | Executive summary -- Management response -- Chairperson's summary: Committee on Development Effectiveness (CODE) -- The role of training in capacity building -- Effectiveness of training -- What training works: training design -- When training works: the organizational context for training -- Bank processes and systems -- Findings and recommendations -- Appendices. |
| Sommario/riassunto      | This evaluation assesses the extend to which World Bank-financed training builds the capacity of target institutions and organizations to better achieve their development goals, and identifies the training management processes that contribute to positive results.   |